

A further insight into optimization by means of the quasi interior

Anca Grad

19.05.2016

Abstract

We analyze and compare different solution notions and optimality conditions for vector and set-valued optimization problems by means of the quasi interior and the quasi relative interior of a convex cone. Moreover, we discuss practical examples of such optimization problems, emphasizing the necessity of the use of generalized interiors.